CALIFORNIA DELEGATION VISITS SENATOR HARDING

Like millions of other Americans, the California Republicans who left California last week on their pilgrimage to Senator Harding's front porch were interested more in seeing what kind of man he is, than his speech to the delegation. The Republican nominee, in his address throughout the campaign, has shown, his sturdy Americanism and constructive Republicanism. The California visitors were, therefore, more interested in the personality of the man who seeks the tremendous task of guiding the destinies of his 120,000,000 fellow citizens for the next four years.

As the visitors approached the Harding residence, one among many in its simplicity and attractiveness, they realized the fitness of things—that from such a typical American home there should come a modest, dignified and capable, upstanding American upon whom the choice of his fellow citizens should fall to uphold the honor and traditions of the nation. This conviction grew when they met the man. He is typical of the successful business man—of the hundreds of thousands of successful Americans who have accumulated a competence through the ordinary channels which are open to all hard working, straight-forward American boys. As wealth grows, he isn't wealthy at all. He simply has enough.

Meet him, now. He has established an office in the home of George Christian, Jr., his secretary, which adjoins the Harding house—and this is typical; Chief and Secretary live side by side, each owning his own modest home.

The visitors step into the dining room and meet the Senator. Just at the minute he is reading proof on editorials which are to be printed in his newspaper, the Marlon "Star" in the afternoon. The Senator stands for everything that is printed in the "Star." Disposing of the proof sheet, he shakes hands cordially and they are at liberty to size him up.

He is somewhat above the average of course, because he has already been singled out by the people of Ohio to represent them in the Senate. But aside from this, the Californians were at once struck by his balance and his poise. They marked him as dependable—safe. There is that in his face, on his brow, which gives assurance that he is not the sort of man who will speak without thinking, or act without deliberating. There is reserve force in his bearing, determination in his jaws, character in his mouth, kindly sympathy in his eyes.

Harding has both warmth and cordiality. Neither effusive nor restrained—shoulder slapping nor retiring—he has about him a simple natural dignity, a serious comprehension of the position in which he stands before the American people today. As the visitors listened to him talk this conviction was strengthened. He doesn't say anything in his office that he wouldn't say out on his front porch, nor anything on the porch that he wouldn't adhere to in all sincerity in his office.

The thing that strikes one at all times is his moderation, his restraint, the absence of all bombast and exaggeration in his statements, the careful presentation of issues, the avoidance of all attempts to array one class against the other, the conveyance of the desire, if called to the Presidency, to be President of all the people; and, without making any high-sounding promises, to give all of the people the best that is in him.

Particularly noticeable is his avoidance of personal controversy. Not since his nomination has Harding referred in a public speech to his opponent. He adheres to the issues. Not once has he permitted himself to indulge in a personal denunciation of his rival.

He is sane. He has fixed convictions as to the moderation and balance which should characterize candidates for the high office of the Presidency; departure from which he believes, without doing any good to the candidate who offends, does serve to bring American institutions into contempt.

WARREN G. HARDING SURE OF ELECTION THIS FALL

It is generally conceded by all that Warren G. Harding will be elected president of the United States next November. It is highly necessary that he should have the senate and house of representatives in sympathy with his policies. It therefore is incumbent of the republican party that it elect its congressmen and senators. In this state we have candidates for the United States Senate in the person of Samuel M. Shortridge. He is the republican standard bearer, a man of ability and one well qualified for the position and a man that every republican can support. He will be influential with the new administration and will be in a position to do more for the state than any democratic senator could possibly do. A democratic senator would have no influence with the republican administration. There should be no disloyal republicans in the ranks this year. The national ticket should be voted straight.

Arthur M. Free, the republican candidate for congress in this district ought to receive undeserved support and no doubt he will secure a big republican vote in this county.

Vote for Harding and Coolidge, Samuel M. Shortridge and Arthur M. Free. Their policies are the same. Don't divide your vote. Make it a unit and place the republican party in power by giving it full control of governmental affairs and the country will be prosperous and sound.

Vote "NO" on Proposition No. 2

Argument Against Harris State Prohibition Enforcement Act

Proposition No. 2 on the November Ballot

Proposition No. 2 (the Harris State Prohibition Enforcement Act), does not represent true California sentiment. The measure itself is the product of the last Legislature, which absolutely misrepresented the majority wish of the people of the State on the question of prohibition.

In 1914, 1916 and 1918 California voted down prohibition by very decisive majorities. Within sixty days after the people had rejected the third attempt of the prohibitionists, a Legislature dominated by radical "dry" performed the startling feat of placing this State in the prohibition column by ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment and passing the Harris Act in California by way of enforcement.

In the rush to take advantage of a favorable Legislature, upon the personnel of which the prohibition element had worked at the preceding election, the Harris bill was devised and adopted eight months before the Volstead National Enforcement Act was passed by Congress. The grape-growing interests of California availed themselves of the right of referendum and promptly presented a widely-signed petition to the Secretary of State. This brings the question of prohibition again before the voters.

Men and women who believe in democracy in government should unhesitatingly vote "NO" on Proposition No. 2. In the annals of political history in this state, there is no more glaring perversion of the law of justice or thwarting of the will of the people than was exemplified in the passing of this particular State measure. Even a prohibitionist who would profess to love justice, would vote down this legislation with conscience clear. The conservative reasoning voter really has no other course to pursue if he analyzes the facts.

Let it be explained further that this Act would foist on this State a bone-dry prohibition law from which the people of California could get no relief even if Congress in its judgment later on saw fit to modify the Volstead Act by permitting the use of light wines and beers in the home. If Proposition No. 2 becomes a law in our State, we would find ourselves under rigid radical prohibition while other States in the Union could enjoy any modifications that might come through Congress by amendment of the Volstead Act. This would make a laughing stock of California which produces ninety per cent of all the grapes grown in the United States.

Proposition No. 2, being of premature birth, is unnecessary legislation. If it becomes the law, it compels those who purchase liquor for non-beverage purposes, to obtain double sets of permits—one from the United States Prohibition Enforcement Department and another from the California State Board of Pharmacy.

I trust the great majority of voters of this State will mark "X" opposite the word "NO" on this measure and thereby again defeat prohibition in California for the fourth time. I repeat that the proposed law is superfluous, would bar light wines and beer in the home, and does not reflect the true sentiment of our glorious hospitable California.

(Signed) E. M. SHEEHAN,
President California Grape Growers' Exchange.

How to Mark Your Ballot So As To Vote Against Proposition No. 2

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT ACT.
Submitted to electors by referendum, defines intoxicating liquor as that containing over one-half of one per cent of alcohol; with certain exceptions relating to religious, medical and home use, prohibits the manufacture, possession, receiving, serving, sale and transportation thereof, and also the advertising and soliciting the sale thereof for beverage purposes; declares nothing therein shall authorize anything prohibited by any act of congress nor limit the power of any city or county to prohibit the manufacture and sale of such liquor; regulates the dealing in intoxicating liquor for non-beverage purposes; and prescribes penalties.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

Charles P. Cooley was elected supervisor of Santa Clara county for the northern part of the county at the recent primary election. He received more than the combined votes of his two opponents. Mr. Cooley is a Ravenswood man, moving to Palo Alto some years ago. His friends here are elated over his selection.

L. P. Booth was given a birthday party at his home on Thursday evening by members of the Episcopal church. He was 75 years on that day. He was entertained by Rev. Hugh Montgomery in one portion of his home while his friends entered the place by the front entrance and prepared the festive board laden with all the delicacies of the season and a birthday cake surrounded with 75 small lights. Mr. Booth was beside himself with surprise on looking upon the smiling faces of his friends and the laden tables before him. Mr. Booth received the well-wishes of his friends graciously and heartily thanked them for their kindness to him.

Many young ladies from Menlo Park are attending Notre Dame convent at San Jose. Miss Mildred Bracoso, who spent two years at the Palo Alto high school, began her studies at the convent last Monday. Miss Marcela Smith, a bright pupil from St. Joseph's parochial school, entered the convent last week. Miss Margaret Doyle has begun her second year at the institution.

Arthur Powle and wife are here on a two weeks vacation visiting relatives. Mr. Powle is "one of the finest" on the San Francisco police force. He will soon be able to retire on a pension at which time he will engage in the chicken business here or at Rummymede.

Joseph Wise, for over two years in charge of the T. A. Casey shoe shop, has accepted a lucrative position at the Base Hospital. He began his new duties on Thursday. Mr. Wise is a capable man in any position.

The William Warren School for Boys at Menlo Park, commenced its fifth year of work Tuesday, opening for the fall term with an assembly at 4:30 that afternoon. The enrollment for the term is 110 students. The faculty of eighteen members includes a new member in the person of Lieut. John C. Vandervoort, of Santa Cruz, who will be commandant. Lieutenant Vandervoort is a Stanford graduate and was overseas in the World War. During the summer the school buildings have been enlarged to care for the growing student body. An extra story was added to the school building, and a new structure was built for the use of the boys of the first year of the high school division.

Joseph Brister died suddenly Saturday at the government warehouses which are being wrecked by the Jos. White Wrecking company. His death was caused by a hemorrhage. The deceased was a native of Mississippi, aged 35 years. He had been a resident of Palo Alto for the past twelve years.

The party who removed the two salt shakers from the Triumph Theatre is known and if he does not return them he will be prosecuted. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Companions of the Forest contemplate a card party in Native Son's hall in the near future.

W. J. Murray, the realty broker, is spending a vacation of two weeks at Gilroy Hot Springs.

Allie Hall has returned from a short visit to his mother's at Oakland. He starts today for Del Monte.

J. Henry Meyer and family will take a house in San Francisco on September 18 for two months at which time his new dwelling at University Heights will be completed.

St. Joseph's Parochial school opened for the fall term last Tuesday. There was a record breaking attendance. Mother Foley is in charge of the school this year.

The Menlo baseball team has won the pennant for 1920 in the peninsula league. The team came saw and conquered on the Community Center diamond last Sunday. The Native Sons' team of the College City went down to defeat before 3000 fans in a game that will always be memorable in the annals of baseballdom of this community. No game that was ever pulled off in this section was more interesting. The score was 5 to 4. The first part of the contest looked nebulous for Menlo but a change of pitchers and with a strong determination to win turned the tide. The league series consisted of twelve weeks' series. At the first of the season there were eighteen teams in the league. Later on two withdrew, the Federal Telegraph and the Base Hospital teams. The Palo Alto Native Sons and the Menlo team tied and the final game of the series was played on Sunday. It was a well-contested game perhaps the best ever played on the peninsula. In the first four innings the Native Sons scored four runs but made no more during the remainder of the contest. At this juncture Hara, the pitcher for Menlo was retired, Blanchard taking his place. He proved his mettle, retiring batters in the one, two and three order. Clothier caught a great game for Menlo. He also featured in knocking out a home run at the critical part of the game when there were three men on bases. This hit won back the waning morale of the home team and from that time on the pennant seemed and finally fell in the lap of the home nine. The hunt by Ray Kelly was also a feature. It was made when a man was on third bringing him home, scoring the winning run. Larveco played a professional game, hitting hard and held down second bag like a league player. Foley at first featured by his catching and hard hitting. He certainly played a good game. Little Haddock on third certainly did his share in winning the cup, his pick-ups and batting were features. At the conclusion of the contest the Menlo admirers of the players sought the diamond and lustily cheered the victors. That evening the citizens gave the nine a banquet at Triumph Cafe. The conquerors of Palo Alto were accorded every honor, no roman heroes were ever shown such respect. Next Wednesday the people of Palo Alto are going to give the victors at the Community Center building a banquet and dance at which time the cup will be presented to the winners. The nine will be the guest of honor of Palo Alto for that evening. Palo Alto accepts the defeat good-naturedly and bows humbly to the prowess of Menlo. We hope that this era of good feeling will always exist between the two communities. Let's all be good sports and harbor no ill-feeling. Both communities are favored with a high class citizenry. Mrs. B. T. Lacey and her son, Lyman T. Lacey, and his wife have closed their pretty Atherton home and have taken a house in the city.

There has been a change in the personnel of the Red Cross department at the Base Hospital. Mr. Evans is now in charge with a new corps of assistants.

St. Patrick's seminary will open today for the fall term. There will be an enrollment of over 200. Among the new students from this vicinity is John O'Farrell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Farrell of Atherton. Young O'Farrell is a graduate of St. Joseph's parochial school. He is very devout and exemplary young man with a vocation for the priesthood.

Beginning September 18 and lasting for two days, Rummymede will hold its third annual agricultural and livestock exhibit and its sixth annual poultryman's meeting. The sessions and exhibits will be at the Weeks' Poultry Farm. Free exhibits of agriculture and livestock products of the Rummymede community will be shown in the interests of laterative production, a type of farming which is becoming increasingly necessary in this country, and in which the Rummymede colony is taking a leading part. The annual display will also afford visitors an opportunity to see the wonderful possibilities of the little-lander colony. A chicken dinner will be served by the ladies club at Weeks' Hall, with 'trimmings' of new corn, green beans, tomatoes and berries grown on the little farms. Lectures by experienced poultrymen will be given at 2 o'clock each afternoon. There will be athletics and sports each day at 4 o'clock. The exhibits are to be on display all day Saturday and Sunday.
